COLLEGE? On Your Mark, Get Set... Save!

When it comes to saving for a college education for our children, eighteen years may seem like a long way off. However, for most of us when it comes to saving for college, our children just grow-up too quickly.

Unfortunately, many parents are putting off saving for college because they don't believe they'll ever be able to save enough to put a dent in the cost of a college education! Or, they think that the amount of money they will need to save each month will force them to severely cramp their current life style. They live in hope that when the day finally comes to pay for college, their children will earn a scholarship, and qualify for lots of college financial aide. And, some parents believe that their children should have to work their way through college, and use student loans just like they did!

I understand your feelings and concerns. The problem is that if you don't help your children with the cost of college, it is unlikely that they will graduate. There have been numerous studies that show that more and more children of middle-income families are dropping out of college.

"One in three Americans drops out of college, an overall increase from the 1960s when one in five discontinued his or her studies."

U.S. Census Bureau - 2000

So, the question today isn't... Do you want your children to go to college? It's... Do you want your children to graduate from college?

Interesting Facts:

- Crocodiles swallow stones to help them dive deeper.
- A zebra is white with black stripes.
- Hummingbirds can't walk.
- The human body has enough fat to produce 7 bars of soap.
- Tigers have striped skin, not just striped fur.
- It's impossible to sneeze with your eyes open.
- Porcupines float in water.

Child Safety

Unfortunately, almost every week we read or hear about another child being abducted. According to recent statistics from Missing Child Prevention over 800,000 children were reported missing last year. And, the problem is that many parents do not think about taking preventive measures until it is too late. But look at these sobering statistics:

- 1 child is abducted every 40 seconds in the United States.
- 8470 children are reported abused or neglected every day.
- 280 children are arrested for violent crimes every day.
- 39% of children under 18 are using drugs when they commit crimes.
- Every minute, 8 children attempt suicide and 3 end up in the hospital or the morgue.

- A total 2,100 per day go missing in the US.
- Another 500,000 go missing without ever being reported

In a recent article by Amber Alert, they stated that: "If any other segment of our population were so impacted, we would declare an epidemic: the center for disease control would fund a cure; we would pass and enforce legislation and we would increase private and public security. But, since it is only our children, many in our society accept these appalling numbers as status quo. Although there are no quick fixes to the problems of child safety, there are many things that we can do as adults to address and positively impact the issue."

Money Saving Tips

The new year is here and with all the talk about the recession, it couldn't hurt to save a few extra bucks. Here are a few money saving tips!

1. Combine your cable, internet and telephone service. Companies now offer combined services that not only cost less, but offer the convenience of a single bill.

2. Slow down your internet service. I went to the slower internet service option with my cable company and saved $15 per month. And I haven't noticed a difference when surfing the Net.

3. Request a reduction in the interest rate for your home equity line of credit. Some mortgage companies will agree to reduce the rate by more than 0.50%. It never hurts to ask.

COLLEGE? On Your Mark, Get Set... Save!

"Only 41 percent of low-income students entering a four-year college managed to graduate within five years."

Department of Education - 2004

Whether you are considering a public or private college for your child, the key is to establish a funding plan, as early as possible. The longer you wait, the more difficult it may be to reach your funding goal.

"Borrowing can result in economic hardship for those who drop out, yet avoidance of borrowing may push students to delay entry into higher education, enroll part-time or work extra hours - all risk factors for dropping out."

'Report: college dropouts with student loans face long-term economic hardship'

Saving as little as $228 per month, at a modest 7.2%, means that in 18 years you will have $100,000 for your children's college education. If I could show you where to find the money to save for your children's college education, without sacrificing your current life style, would it be worth sitting down and talking about it?

It's never too early to establish a plan for funding your children's college education!

Child Safety

Kits to help in the prevention of this devastating problem by providing essential information about your children to the authorities in the event you should be faced with this unthinkable crisis. These kits are totally confidential. You Fill Them Out, You Keep Them, You Update Them... No one sees the information except you, unless the need to use them arises.

These kits are usually provided FREE to you. Check with your local police, fire departments and schools. Get One For Each Of Your Children Today!

Or, you can make one up yourself. Just get an inkpad and put your child's fingerprints on a sheet of paper or card. (Don't try to roll their fingers- they're too small.) Get a current picture and paste that onto the card. Write down all biographical and physical information you can think of to help ID your child. You can save a DNA sample by taking a hair strand and keeping it in a plastic bag in your freezer. You can also make your own ID tags to put inside your child's shoes.
